Chemical Geology, 111 (1994) 327
Elsevier Science B.V., Amsterdam

Contents Volume 111, 1994

Research Papers

Amino acids of Proterozoic and Ordovician sulphide-coated grains from western Canada: Record of biologically-mediated pyrite precipitation
S. Nardi, P.L. Binda, L.S. Baccelle and G. Concheri 1

An organic geochemical profile of the Toarcian anoxic event in northern Italy
P. Farrimond, D.P. Stoddart and H.C. Jenkyns 17

Sources and dynamics of sulfur in weathered till, Western Glaciated Plains of North America
D.R. Van Stempvoort, M. James Hendry, J.J. Schoenau and H.R. Krouse 35

Criteria for determining initial lead isotopic compositions of pyrite in Archaean lode–gold deposits: a case study at Victory, Kambalda, Western Australia
S.E. Ho, N.J. McNaughton and D.I. Groves 57

Molar ratios in the study of unaltered and hydrothermally altered greywackes and shales
J.F. Davies and R.E. Whitehead 85

A comparison of iron extraction methods for the determination of degree of pyritisation and the recognition of iron-limited pyrite formation
R. Raiswell, D.E. Canfield and R.A. Berner 101

Comparison of geochemical indices used for the interpretation of palaeoredox conditions in ancient mudstones
B. Jones and D.A.C. Manning 111

The determination of total sulphur in geological materials by coulometric titration
B.P. Atkin and C. Somerfield 131

Sources of dissolved salts in the central Murray Basin, Australia
B.F. Jones, J.S. Hanor and W.R. Evans 135

Multi-element chemistry of some Amazonian waters and soils
K.O. Konhauser, W.S. Fyfe and B.I. Kronberg 155

Geochemical evolution of the Precambrian Old Rag Granite, Virginia, U.S.A.: testing a U–Th exploration model
W.H. Blackburn, R.V. Metcalf and P.C. Ragland 177

The origin of Pyrenean Hercynian volcanic rocks (France–Spain): REE and Sm–Nd isotope constraints
J.S. Gilbert, M.J. Bickle and H.J. Chapman 207

The trace-element variations in clinopyroxenes from spinel peridotite xenoliths from southwest Poland
J. Blusztajn and N. Shimizu 227

Effects of heating and prolonged electron bombardment on cathodoluminescence emission from synthetic calcite
R.A. Mason 245

Isotope Geoscience Section

Research Papers

On the use of 60°C "cooling ages" obtained using projected fission-track lengths in apatite
D.A. Coyle and R. Powell 263

The strontium isotopic composition of carbonates from the late Precambrian (~560–540 Ma) Huqf Group of Oman
S.J. Burns, U. Haudenschild and A. Matter 269

Evidence for oxygen isotope disequilibrium in selected geothermal and hydrothermal ore deposit systems
D.R. Cole 283

Interlaboratory comparison of methods to determine the stable isotope composition of soil water
G.R. Walker, P.H. Woods and G.B. Allison 297

Sulfur and carbon isotopes in Archean banded iron formations: Implications for sulfur sources
R.J. Bowins and J.H. Crocket 307

EAG News 325

Contents Volume 111, 1994 327

Guide for Authors

0009-2541/94/$07.00 © 1994 Elsevier Science B.V. All rights reserved.